There are also versions available for use on dark backgrounds, and greyscale variations. A full download pack is available at the bottom of the page.

Secondary Fonts

We have secondary fonts if we require a contrast to Greycliff, or if Greycliff isn't available. Greycliff is the preferred font choice and these should only be used in limited circumstances.

Noto Serif is the accent font family for PA Media Group and should be used sparingly to create contrast with Greycliff. Example use cases include pull quotes, statistics and subheadings in marketing materials.

Design Devices

Floating boxes

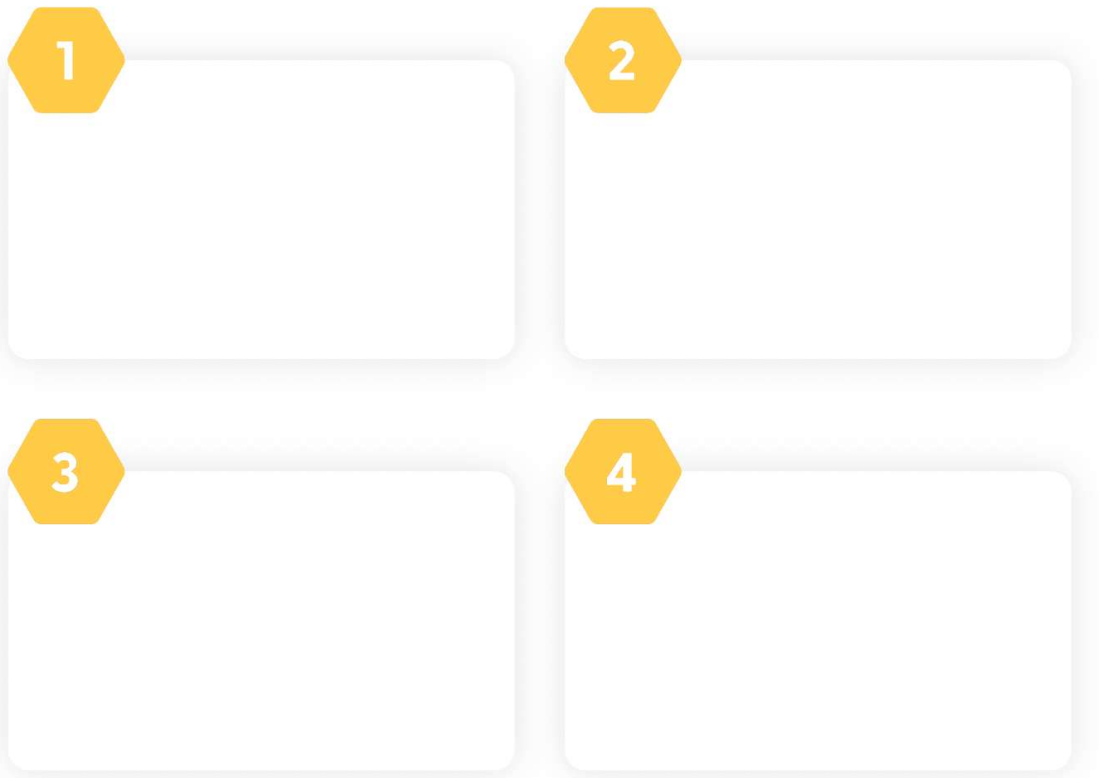

These floating boxes should be used to contain content when it needs to be separated from other elements.

They can be created in any software and consist of a rectangle or square with rounded corners and a subtle drop shadow.

Numbers

If you have numbers on a presentation slide, it is recommended that you contain the numbers in hexagons or rounded rectangles.

Hexagons

The hexagon shape from the logo can be used as a decorative element or an image container. These can overlap, stand alone or bleed off the edge of the page.

Do not over-use the hexagon as a visual device.
